

PSi CONSTELLATE 2021

: to join luster; to unite (several shining bodies) in one illumination.

Performance Studies international (PSi) is home to many communities that create, extend and enrich vital international relationships. These communities of exchange take many forms, such as the PSi Working Groups and the PSi Future Advisory Board (FAB), among other ad hoc and emerging clusters.

In these extraordinary times, PSi Constellate 2021 provides a flexible framework for the activities of these groups, revealing constellations of shared interest, opportunity and interaction.

The program for PSi Constellate 2021 (<https://www.psi-web.org/constellate/>) is distributed and evolving, a 'living document' that will be updated on an ongoing basis as events are finalized and as new groups opt to 'join luster.' Complete information for all activities is available in the Events Calendar section of the PSi site: <https://www.psi-web.org/events/>.

Most Constellate events are available at no cost for all PSi members. Participation in all Constellate activities requires PSi membership. However, reflecting the extreme challenges associated with the pandemic, PSi has established a Pay-What-You-Can membership fee option for 2021. Full membership information for PSi is available here: <https://www.psi-web.org/membership/>.

We encourage you to explore the program and to revisit it regularly in order to keep up-to-date on the remarkable opportunities for connection and interaction, at a time when both have been in conspicuously short supply.
